eCommerce Seo Services Why is SEO Important?

Brand visibility increases

If done correctly, SEO can bring both short-term and long-term visitors to your site. It is crucial that you post a blog daily, update your on-page content, and build links so that new buyers can find you.

Performance improvements for product pages

Despite selling multiple products, only 20% of those products are profitable. With SEO-optimized product pages, you could reach even more of your existing audience.

Developing authority

Google will rank your site higher if your content is high quality and well-structured. If your site frequently appears on the first page of Google, customers will perceive you as an authority. They will be encouraged to buy from you more frequently when they see your site frequently on the first page of Google.

Why Choose Online Strikers for your eCommerce SEO?

We are one of India's most affordable suppliers of search engine optimization. We work continuously to improve, streamline our working methods and our workflows. With responsive management and a bunch of incredibly talented and creative employees, we can today hold one of the country's lowest prices where we also deliver a service that maintains an incredibly high quality and creates profitability for our customers.

SEO for e-commerce

Working with search engine optimization for an online store that runs e-commerce requires a slightly different strategy from many other sites.

An online store often consists of very many different products, which means that there are often many searches you want to rank high on and also in several different variants.

If we take an accounting firm as an example. An accounting firm has a few searches that are extra important to them, e.g. "Accounting firm in Sarita Vihar" and "Accounting firm in Pant Nagar" if it wants to reach out to Pant Nagar.

A webshop, on the other hand, wants to be visible at the national level and preferably with all their products, products that are also replaced over time. SEO for e-traders is more dynamic and therefore it is important not to stare blindly at just a couple of main searches but think long-term and of several variants of searches on their products. Here it is important to find conversion-driven search phrases and keywords where the customer is close to a purchase.

Search engine optimization for webshop

A person who Googles for example “dress” has not defined which dress she is looking for, if she wants to buy online and which brand she wants. The person may just want inspiration and is looking for pictures of stylish dresses.

If, on the other hand, she googled on “dresses for children”, she has been a little clearer with what she should wear, “dresses for weddings” even more clearly and the final search may be “pink dress for weddings”.

It is after this search that she will click in and make her purchase, here she is close to purchasing and when you work with search engine optimization for online stores, it is this type of search you must not miss!

For a webshop, marketing via Google is almost everything, it is where we search and it is through Google that we find the products. We have been running since 2014 and have worked with search engine optimization for several different e-commerce companies, everything from clothing, beauty, construction, and interior design. What they all have in common is that their traffic and their sales increase!

What is eCommerce SEO?

Primarily, e-commerce SEO is a technical activity. It's about your product database ranking high in Google. It is a technical activity as it is a technology that manages your database. That said, you may need to supplement the technology with content, link strategy, and user experience.
